Forecast For Scotland
Issued by Met Office Aberdeen
at 1600 on Sunday 19 Sep 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mainly dry overnight. Sunny spells and a few showers Monday.

This Evening and Tonight:
Shetland cloudy this evening with outbreaks of rain, otherwise much of Scotland will have a dry night with long clear spells. However the northwest will become cloudier towards dawn with a little rain developing.

Monday:
Cloud and patchy rain in the northwest edging southeast and breaking up to leave a bright day with sunny spells and, especially in the north, a few light showers.

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Dry, bright on Tuesday but becoming windy later, gales in the northwest on Tuesday night. Unsettled on Wednesday and Thursday with showers or longer spells of rain.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.